

Getting Wet and More in West Virginia With Songer Whitewater

Songer Whitewater

Try out the river in a yellow duckie.

Songer Whitewater

Songer whitewater lets you challenge the rapids of the Lower New River if you dare!

Washington's summer heat and humidity are legendary. Where can you go to cool off? The simple answer is West Virginia. As you try to beat the summer heat, look no further than the Mountain State. Songer Whitewater cools you off with exciting whitewater rivers and gets your heart pumping with great adventure value packages, all designed to help you beat the summer heat.

Family vacations with whitewater rafting as the centerpiece are a great way to enjoy the outdoors. Mild rapids and warm water gets the gang playing hard at having fun. Jumping off the raft as it floats along the New River currents gives you the sense of being alone with nature. If you're looking for big water fun the Lower New River is the ticket. The Lower New's Class 3 to 5 rapids will provide all the adventure you need as you challenge the river. Combine your adventure with a deluxe cabin. Use the grills to create a BBQ dinner that will help everyone re-live the excitement of the day.

The river is just the beginning at Songer, where they will also help with rock climbing, horseback riding, or zip lining in the New River Gorge National Park. Southern West Virginia is teeming with outdoor adventure for anyone seeking to get away during the summer months; all less than a day's drive from Washington.

ACE Adventure Resort

Take a Road Trip to Adventure This Fall!

The fall season at ACE is notorious for its antics on and off the Gauley River. Six weeks of monster wave-trains, steep drops and exploding spray make ACE the destination for world-class whitewater.

But let's not forget the stunning scenery for which the New & Gauley River canyons are known.

So get your friends together for a fall road-trip to adventure. You're on a mission to ACE!
