Zip, then Dip at Raystown Lake

Remember as a kid how much fun it was to swing from a rope out over a pond and drop in for a big cooling splash on a hot summer day? Raystown Zip Lines has updated the concept, replacing the old rope swing with new zip lines.

You zip over a newly installed 15-foot-deep, lined and filtered pond then drop safely into the water. After splashing and shouting a bit for effect, you exit easily and usually ask, "Can I do it again?"

A lifeguard is on duty for extra safety, but what a great way to beat the summer heat and update those rope and pond memories. (www.raystownziplines.com)
